

Exhibit G

Compilation of Plaintiff, Sonya Larson's Letters from the five versions of The Kindest

- 1) Letter from The Kindest – Brilliance Version
- 2) Letter from The Kindest – Audible Version
- 3) Letter from The Kindest – American Short Fiction Version
- 4) Letter from The Kindest – Version Submitted to the Boston Book Festival
- 5) Letter from The Kindest – FINAL Boston Book Festival Version

Letter from The Kindest - Brilliance Version

Dear Recipient,

My name is Rose Rothario. I'm a thirty-eight-year-old white female, and I live in Greater Boston.

In 2015 I saw my first documentary about living kidney donation, and from that point forward I was constantly reminded of the urgent need for kidneys in our country. Equipped with this new awareness, I set forth on a journey to make a maximum impact on another's life with only minimal risk to myself.

I'm grateful to the entire transplant team at MGH, who gave such attentive care from my very first blood test to the date of our paired exchange. My own childhood was marked by trauma and abuse; I wasn't given an opportunity to form secure attachments with my family of origin. But in adulthood that experience provided a strong sense of empathy. While others might desire to give to a family member or friend, to me the suffering of strangers is just as real.

A few things about me: I like sailing, camping, jewelry, and cats.

As I prepared to make this gift, what sustained me was the knowledge that my recipient would be getting a second chance at life. I channeled my energies into imagining and celebrating YOU.

My gift, you must know, trails no strings. You deserve all that life has to offer, simply because you exist.

That said, I would love to know more about you. Perhaps we could meet. But I accept any level of involvement, even if it is none.

Warmly,

Rose M. Rothario

Letter From The Kindest - Audible Version

Dear Recipient,

My name is Rose Rothario. I'm a thirty-eight-year-old white female, and I live in Greater Boston.

In 2016 I watched a documentary about altruistic kidney donation, and as the credits rolled I felt wholly dismayed by the daily experiences of those in need. Equipped with this new awareness, I set forth on a journey to offer a great gift, to do my part in bettering a fellow human's life.

I'm grateful to the entire transplant team at MGH, who tightly held my hand from my very first blood test to the date of our paired exchange. I myself know something of suffering, but from those experiences I've learned to build perseverance, to build courage. And I've also learned to appreciate the hardship that others are going through, no matter how foreign. Whatever you've experienced, remember that you are never alone.

A few things about me: I like sailing, camping, jewelry, and cats.

As I prepared to make this donation, I drew strength from knowing that my recipient would be getting a second chance at life. I channeled my energies into imagining and celebrating YOU.

Now I smile at the thought that you are enjoying renewed health. You deserve all that life has to offer, simply because you exist.

If you're willing and able, I would love to know more about you. Perhaps we could meet. But if you prefer not to, I accept that outcome as well.

Warmly,

Rose M. Rothario

Letter from The Kindest - American Short Fiction Version

Dear Recipient,

My name is Rose Rothario. I'm a thirty-eight-year-old white female, and I live in Greater Boston.

In 2017 I saw a documentary about altruistic kidney donation, and as the credits rolled I felt wholly dismayed by the daily experiences of those in need. Equipped with this new awareness, I set forth on a journey to offer a great gift, to do my part in bettering a fellow human's life.

I shook open the letter. Six whole daisy pages. Stuff about her surgery, the prep, the PT. It went on.

I'm so grateful to the MGH transplant team, who held my hand from my very first blood test to the date of our paired exchange. I myself know something of suffering, but from those experiences I've acquired both courage and perseverance. I've also learned to appreciate the hardship that others are going through, no matter how foreign. Whatever you've endured, remember that you are never alone.

A few things about me: I like sailing, camping, jewelry, and cats.

As I prepared to make this donation, I drew strength from knowing that my recipient would get a second chance at life. I withstood the pain by imagining and rejoicing in YOU.

Now I smile at the thought that you are enjoying renewed health. You deserve all that life has to offer, simply because you exist.

If you are willing, I would love to know more about you. Perhaps we could meet. But if you prefer not to, I accept that reaction as well.

Warmly,

Rose M. Rothario

Letter from The Kindest – Version submitted to the Boston Book Festival

Dear Recipient,

My name is Rose Rothario. I'm a thirty-eight-year-old white female, and I live in Greater Boston.

In 2016 I watched a documentary about altruistic kidney donation, and as the credits rolled I felt wholly dismayed by the daily experiences of those in need. Equipped with this new awareness, I set forth on a journey to offer a great gift, to do my part in bettering a fellow human's life.

I'm grateful to the entire transplant team at MGH, who tightly held my hand from my very first blood test to the date of our paired exchange. I myself know something of suffering, but from those experiences I've learned to build perseverance, to build courage. And I've also learned to appreciate the hardship that others are going through, no matter how foreign. Whatever you've experienced, remember that you are never alone.

A few things about me: I like sailing, camping, jewelry, and cats.

As I prepared to make this donation, I drew strength from knowing that my recipient would be getting a second chance at life. I channeled my energies into imagining and celebrating YOU.

Now I smile at the thought that you are enjoying renewed health. You deserve all that life has to offer, simply because you exist.

If you're willing and able, I would love to know more about you. Perhaps we could meet. But if you prefer not to, I accept that outcome as well.

Warmly,

Rose M. Rothario

Letter from The Kindest -- FINAL Boston Book
Festival Version

Dear Friend,

By now you are likely wondering just who this person-- your kidney donor-- could possibly be. Today I reach out to share a warm hello. It is me.

I am a thirty-eight-year-old white female, and I live in Newton, Massachusetts (born and raised). Last year, while lost in a difficult period, I saw a documentary about altruistic kidney donation. As the credits rolled, I felt shocked by the daily hardship of so many people in need. Equipped with this new awareness, I set forth on a journey to offer a great gift, to do my part in bettering a fellow human's life.

I'm so grateful to the MGH transplant team, who held my hand from my very first blood test. I myself know something of suffering, but from those experiences I've learned courage and perseverance. Whatever you've endured, remember that you are never alone.

A few things about me: I like sailing, camping, jewelry, and cats.

My journey to you has entailed immense time, money, and yes-- pain. But throughout it all I found a profound sense of purpose, knowing that your life depended on my gift.

Now I smile at the thought that you are enjoying renewed health. I hope-- with all my heart-- that you feel emboldened with a new sense of hope.

Naturally, I am curious about your healing, and perspective on our shared experience. Perhaps we could meet. If you'd rather not, that's fine, but I'll leave my number here regardless. Consider it token of my affection-- a lifeline, should you ever need reminding that you are loved.

Kindly,

Rose M. Rothario